BELL PRE FACTORY SOLD.

Old Dominion Glass Co. Purchase Defunct Glass Works.

The Old Dominion Glass Co. of which Lorenzo Wolford is president, George D. Hopkins, Secretary and treasurer, and Geo. H. Schwarzmann, vice-president and general manager, has purchased the plant of the Belle Pre Bottle Company.

A deed was placed on record in the Corporation Court this afternoon transferring to the Old Dominion all the property of the defunct concern. Buildings, machinery, patterns and all other rights are included, the only exception being a plot of ground leased to the Alexandria Glass Works.

The Old Dominion took possession this afternoon and after extensive repairs will commence operations there about November 1st. The Belle Pre is a milk bottle factory and the Old Dominion will continue in this line.

The purchase means much for Alexandria as the opening of the Belle Pre factory will mean the employment of many additional hands.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Announcement is made of the sale of the majority of the stock of the Washington Herald to the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, which has its principal offices in New York. Clinton T. Brainard, president of the McClure Syndicate, has been elected president of the Washington Herald Company, and Frank T. Coddington, managing editor of the Herald, has been made a director of the company.

William E. Ellis, the Cincinnati leather merchant, who was found wounded in a hotel room in Chicago Thursday near the body of his wife, confessed to the coroner's jury yesterday that he had killed the woman. He was held to the grand jury charged with murder. After a conference with members of his wife's family, Ellis abandoned his assertion, made first to the police, that the tragedy was the result of a suicide compact. He assumed the entire blame for the killing and devoted his statement to obliterating the impression, given first, that jealousy was the motive of the crime.

Secretary Daniels with Secretaries Garrison and Redfield and their wives, Mrs. Daniels, the Misses Burleson, daughters of the Postmaster General; the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Roosevelt, with Miss Ethel Bagley, Frank Houston, son of the Secretary of Agriculture, and Mrs. Houston and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, left Washington yesterday on the Mayflower to see battle practice of the Atlantic fleet off the Virginia Capes today. President Wilson called off his plans to see the ships in action because of the currency situation in Congress. White House officials ridiculed stories that the President cancelled his engagement because of illness.

Not only the German Navy but the army suffered from the aviation accidents yesterday. Three army officers belonging to the flying corps were killed in the morning in aeroplane accident.

BIG DISTILLERY IS CONFISCATED

Government Wins in Pocahontas Suit in District Court.

CHARGE BY JUDGE.

Result of Revenue Frauds—Grocer Brands Evidence of Colored Witness as False.

Richmond, Oct. 18.—The Federal government yesterday won its suit in the United States District Court for the confiscation of the Pocahnotas Distilery, in Petersburg, for violation of the internal revenue law with intent to defraud in evading the payment of tax on whisky. The jury reached a verdict in a surprisingly short time, remaining out of the room only thirty minutes. The Pocahontas is one of the largest grain distilleries in Virginia. It is expected by the revenue authorities that the fight will be carried higher.

Robert H. Talley, counsel for the distillery, argued grounds for setting aside the verdict before Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., in the United States District Court today. Mr. Talley bases his hope for an appeal on what he called the court's misinstructions to the jury.

In instructing the jury, Judge Waddill stated that the mere fact that fermenting beer was found in the "slop" tank warranted a verdict for the government.

No criminal proceedings have been instituted in this case. Since the government has succeeded in confiscating the distillery for frauds, it is considered highly probable that the district attorney will attempt to establish the responsibility of the owners.

By previous agreement, the government will take the cash equivalent of the Pocahontas Distillery at the time it was seized in June, instead of the plant itself.

ASLEEP ALL NIGHT IN WELL.

Little Boy Yells Till Exhausted, and Tracks Show His Plight.

Conshohocken, Pa., Oct. 18. — To fall into a well, to scream and cry until he fell weak from exhaustion, then to sleep, was the experience of little Louis Bacini, of North Elm street, Wednesday. He was found yesterday morning by his mother after an all-night vigil in which she imagined he was dead or had been kidnapped.

The boy says that while he was playing in the rear of his home he slipped into an old well in which there was no water. When he recovered his sense he says he called for help and kept on calling and crying until after nightfall; then he did not remember anything until his mother's voice awoke him and he found himself in her arms.

He was located in the well from marks made by his feet in sliding, and was brought to the surface on a ladder.

Cab Crushes Newsboy.

Baltimore, Oct. 18.—Running from behind a west bound Baltimore street car, from which he had just alighted at Monroe street, Albert Brummon, a 12 years old of 441 South Parrish street, a newsboy, was run down by an eastbound car. He died on reaching the hospital.

Before the motorman could bring his car to a standstill, the forward trucks had passed over the little fellow's body.

The boy was scantily clad, and when picked up his newsboy's badge, bearing his name and address, was still on his coat. The papers he carried were scattered about the street.

CONGRESSIONAL RECESS REMOTE

Hopes of Intermission of Labors are Fast Waning.

RESENTMENT SHOWN.

Members Manifesting Restiveness at President's Action in Continuing Session.

Washington, Oct. 18.—While talk of a recess or adjournmnet of Congress continues, and is especially pronounced in the House, Senators today said they saw little real prospecet of it. Much soreness prevails among members of the House and Senate over the manner in which the President is kepeing Congress here. Democratic members are showing more and more resentment.

However, there will be no adjournment or recess without the White House consent. Democratic Senators who have recently been in the White House have brought back word that it would probably be possible to arrange a recess or adjournment if a definite date were agreed upon by the Senate when the bill would be reported by the Banking and Currency committee, and when it would be voted on next session.

However, there is no sign that such agreement can be reached. Unless the President shifts his attitude, therefore, no recess is looked for. Leader Underwood, of the House, has been conferring with the President with a view to reaching an agreement on a recess or adjournment, and Minority Leader Mann has predicted a recess or adjournment.

CRIES HERSELF TO DEATH.

Little Girl's Grief Over Marriage of Sister Proves Fatal.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18.—A little girl of 10 years died of grief Wednesday night because her dear big sister married and left her. The little one was Annie Cwiak, whose sister Helen was married Tuesday to John Wriblaski.

Anna began to cry when she saw her sister walking down the aisle toward the altar in St. John's Polish Catholic church. After the ceremony she threw herself inot the arms of her sister, sobbing violently. She went home still crying. Her mother and her brothers and the little children stood about her. The girl could not stop weeping.

She finally wept herself into insensibility. A doctor was summoned. He became alarmed. Then suddenly it was all over. Anna was dead.

Discrimination Charged.

That the Southern Railway and its connections charge higher rates on lumber to Philiadelphia from Southern points when it is routed through the Potomac yards and Washington than they do when the routing is through Norfolk, is shown in a complaint filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by a Philadelphia lumber firm.

This firm shipped lumber to itself in Philadelphia from South Carolina. Because it was shipped via Washington, a rate of 23 1-2 cents a hundred pounds was charged, because, it is alleged that shipments routed via this city did not get the water competitive rate, 2 1-2 cents lower.

Want 5,000 Deaconnesses.

Twice in a day was the wickedness of New York City emphasized yesterday before the convention of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, meeting at the Foundry M. E. Church. A plea was made for 5,000 deaconnesses to invade the great East Side of New York, and the city was called by another speaker, "the greatest mission field in all the world."

THREE KILLED, EIGHT HURT.

Men Caught in Collapsed Garage, Wrecked by Explosion.

Anderson, S. C., Oct. 18.—Three men were killed and eight injured here Thursday night, when the garage of A. L. Todd collapsed after a gasoline explosion. Edward Layton, of Spartansburg, struck a match to light the lamp of his automobile as it was being filled with gasoline. The explosion followed and the building caught fire.

As the firemen were fighting the flames a wall fell killing William E. Campbell and Robert Dodd, Jr., and an unidentified man whose body has not yet been recovered. Five firemen were so badly injured that they had to be taken to a hospital.

Layton and a boy, Isaac Fein, were severely burned.

FOR COMPULSORY VOTING.

Secretary Daniels Favors Forcing Men to Use the Franchise.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 18.—In advocating compulsory voting Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, in the Yale News yesterday, says: "We have come to a time in our national life when the compulsory ballot must decide for itself. Sovereign voters of this republic are abdicating the most important duty of citizenship. Should they be allowed in this way to desert, any more than a man should be allowed the right to desert the army in time of war? If we require our citizens, as we properly do, to serve on the jury, to bear arms when called upon, to obey any process of the court, however, much he may object to giving testimony, to work on the roads in many districts, and pay taxes whether he approves them or not, may we not also make it compulsory for him to vote? The chief and most far reaching attribute of citizenship is the use of the ballot. If he can forget his duty, the state must compel him to recall it."

FARMER SHOOTS WIFE.

Fires Because She Protests Against Hunting on Posted Land.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 18.—Because his wife remonstrated with him when he informed her that he was going to hunt on posted land, it is alleged, Charles Stuart, who resides on Sunset Mountain, shot her late Thursday afternoon, and it was reported that the patient is in a desperate condition. Stuart declared that the shooting was accidental, claiming that the gun was discharged as he slipped and fell when his wife struck him with a broom stick.

To a hospital attendant, Mrs. Stuart is said to have declared that her husband said that he was going to hunt squirrels on posted land. "You had better not do it," she is said to have declared, following which the prisoner leveled the gun at her and fired. Stuart is a farmer on Sunset Mountain, and has not been in serious trouble before.

PROPOSED RURAL CREDIT SYSTEM

Legislation on This Line Said to be Probable at Early Date.

BASIS OF MOVEMENT.

Such a Measure, it is Claimed, Would Prove Beneficial and be Hailed With Approval.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Indications are that it will not be long until this country has legislation providing for an agricultural credit system. Enactment of such legislation is probable at the next session of Congress.

Efforts have been made to get a provision in the pending currency bill for rural credits. They failed in the House because the President did not want the matter handled in connection with the currency bill. Most of the House leaders took the same view. So the expectation is that the subject will be to be treated as a separate piece of legislation. It will be so treated unless the Senate, which is going to give the currency bill a thorough overhauling, decides to make a provision for it. Should it do so, the House could not well turn it down.

In any event, the House committee on Banking and Currency has decided to explore the field of rural credits and a subcommtitee has been named to make investigations and prepare a bill. This will be submitted to the coming session of Congress. Enactment of legislation on the subject may be looked for at that time.

Pressure of the legislation is strong. Both the old parties, as well as the Bull Moose are for it. Demand for it from the agricultural sections is growing. People in this country, especially in the farming states and the agricultural sections, are appreciating more than ever the fact that interest rates demanded for farm loans here are much higher than they are abroad.

This is a great handicap to farmers and is no small element in the present cost of living.

The system, if established, will not stop with merely an application of an improved credit system to loans on farm lands. It will be broader than that. It is likely to reach out to loans on live stock, on crops, on homes in the towns and cities, on small business stocks and on co-operatively owned properties and business.

If it brings the relief expected, that relief will extend not only to farmers and buyers of farms but to various other elements of the population.

MR. JONES IS ILL.

Representative of First District Confined to Bed at His Home.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Representative Wm. A. Jones, of Virginia, is ill at his home at Warsaw, Va., but it is understood that although he is confined to his bed, his illness is not of a severe nature, and that he will, in all probability, be able to return to Washington during the next week or ten days.

About two weeks ago Mr. Jones, who was much in need of a rest from his arduous duties at the present extra session of Congress, decided to go home for a short vacation. As soon as he reached there he had to go to bed, and is still so confined.

As soon as Mr. Jones returns to Washington he will make public his reply to the recent attack of Former Governor Cameron Forbes, of the Philippines, on him, and especially on a speech that Mr. Jones made in the House last winter on the subject of Philippine Independence.

Much-Married.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18.—Karl Mueller, former Lutheran minister, in his cell in the Brighton Park Police Station, has confessed that he is the husband of four women, one dead or divorced, and the father of six children. He admitted that he served a term in the State penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., for bigamy and upon his release married his fourth wife.

PIANOS IN BARROOMS

No Law Forbidding Introduction Such Instruments in Public Houses

There is no law in Alexandria which prohibits the placing of electric pianos or other musical instruments in saloons, was the decision rendered by Justice Caton in police court this morning.

Chief Goods had summoned S. Flaxman, representative of a piano house, before the court for placing the machines in saloons in different sections of the city. The police complain that there has been an increase in disorders in saloons since the pianos have been installed, especially in the slums of the city where it is difficult to keep women out of the bar-rooms and where the music proves a drawing attraction. Instances of robberies were cited to the court to show the trouble arising from the "canned" music.

The police justice agreed with the chief that the pianos in the low districts were objectionable, but saw no means by which he could stop their operation. The case against Flaxman was therefore dismissed.

In connection with the placing of pianos in saloons it is reported that a resident of Alexandria has recently invested $35,000 in these self-playing pianos which she operates in Washington and Alexandria on a percentage basis.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

SYNOD MEETS NEXT WEEK.

Session Will be Held in First Presbyterian Church in Danville.

Danville, Va., Oct. 18.—The first of the annual gatherings of the large religious denominations, to be held in Virginia this fall, will be that of the Presbyterian Synod of Virginia,which will convene in the 125th session on Tuesday evening, October 21, in the First Presbyterian Church at Danville. The Synod of Virginia is one of the strongest as well as one of the oldest of the fourteen synods which compose the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and its annual session never fails to be marked with interest and enthusiasm regarding the progress and development of the work of the church.

The synod which for many years has been composed of eleven presbyteries will report at this session the addition of one—the Presbytery of Tygarts Valley, having been erected by the General Assembly in May of the present year, in answer to an overture from the Synod of Virginia, which was adopted during the session held in Richmond in 1912.

The most recent figures available show that in the Synod of Virginia there are 313 ministers, 520 churches eight licentiates and seventy-one candidates for the ministry, and the total membership is 54,441. It is probable that the support to be submitted at Danville will show a substantial increase in membership as a result of the evangelistic work and additions on certificate.

AIRMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Machine Badly Damaged But Aviator Escapes.

Danville, Va., Oct. 18.—The last day of the Danville Fair, the greatest event of this kind ever pulled off in this section resulted in an attendance of nearly 20,000 people, while in the neighborhood of 50,000 people attended the fair in the four days it existed.

While making his flight yesterday, the young aviator, Cecil Malcolm Peopli, met with a mishap while he was 1,000 feet or more in the air, and dropped to earth near the old race track at the fair grounds. Soon after he had risen from the ground and had taken his course in a northeasterly direction, people who were following him in their automobiles heard an unusual sputtering sound issuing from the motor of the craft, and in a short while the exhaust that comes from the whirring motor ceased and the airman was seen to take his course toward the ground. Even after the motor had failed to run he seemed to have perfect control of the machine, and, while the descent was a little more direct than is generally the case, and the machine was badly damaged, the aviator escaped serious injury.

HARPER WILL NOT APPEAL.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18.—Frank W. Harper, proprietor of the Beaver Dam Distillery, who was convicted in the United States Dstrict Court of internal revenue frauds and sentenced to 18 months in prison and a $500 fine will not take an appeal. His counsel, Robert H. Talley, made this announcement yesterday morning after Harper had tried unsuccessfully to find some one to go his bond. The convicted distiller will leave the Henrico county jail this morning, to begin his term in the Federal penitentiary at Moundsville, W. V.a

VIRGINIA'S GROWTH.

Freight Handled on Railways Within State Many Million Tons.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18. — The growth of Virginia agricultural, live stock, mining, manufacturing productions and the increase in the wholesale and retail business of the State is reflected in that part of the report of the State Corporation Commission giving figures for the freight traffic movement for Virginia, and the increase in the entire South is shown in the figures for the entire lines of the railways reported, each of which is either mostly or entirely in the Southern States.

Nearly forty million tons of the products of the soil, mines and forests and factories were carried over the lines in the State of Virginia. The intra-state traffic in agricultural products were more than four million tons; in live stock and other animals, more than half a million tons; in products of mines, 16,684,108 tons; of forests, 8,899,850 tons; of manufactures, 1,923,405 tons; of merchandise nearly two million tons and of miscellaneous products 1,321,808 tons.

More than 160,000,000 tons were carried on the entire lines of these railways, in every case showing increases over 1911.

FARM GOES TO BILLINGS.

Millionaire May Bring World-Beating Horses to Henrico.

Richmond, Oct. 18.—When deeds are signed within the next few days, Curl's Neck Farm, on James river, in Henrico county, regarded as the most famous plantation in the South, will be transferred to C. K. G. Billings, of Cleveland, and New York, a multi-millionaire, and the owner of the fastest trotting horses in the world. While definite information regarding the transaction could not be learned yesterday, it is known that Mr. Billings will arrive here, probably today or tomorrow, and it is regarded as certain by real estate dealers that the sale has been virtually closed. The Vanadis, a magnificent ocean-going yacht, owned by Mr. Billings, is now tied up at Curl's Neck wharf, awaiting his arrival.

Agents representing Mr. Billings have inspected every foot of the river property, which embraces more than 5,000 acres. It is now owned by the estate of Charles H. Senff, the sugar millionaire, who died a year or two ago, after spending more than $1,000,000 to make it perfect. The common understanding seems to be that Mrs. Senff did not desire to retain the estate as a home, and when the question of putting it on the market was discussed, there was a great deal of speculattion over the matter of finding a purchaser. According to dealers who are familiar with the property, it was held for $450,000, though Mr. Billings is thought to have secured it for a much smaller figure, possibly around $350,000.

CRUTCHFIELD RUN DOWN.

Physician Tells Police Court Justice Mustn't go Out for Month.

Richmond, Oct. 18.—Police Justice Crutchfield has collapsed under a severe nervous breakdown, and is confined to the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Goodin, of Forest Hill, under the care of a physician.

He has been ordered to take a months of absolute rest and quiet in the hope of his regaining his strength. While his condition yesterday and last night was regarded as alarming, reports today were more reassuring. He is being attended by Dr. H. W. Bassett, who instructed that under no circumstances should the judge leave the house for a month.

Justice Crutchfield's collapse is due to overwork.

Policemen Sued.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 18.—Policemen H. V. Stokes and George W. Shumardine, of Norfolk, have been sued for $10,000 in the United States Court by Martha Weaver, administratrix of Norman Weaver, who was killed while escaping from one of the defendant officers.

Weaver broke away from Officer Stokes who fired upon him as the negro took refuge in some bushes. Policeman Shumardine coming in another direction, saw Weaver run from the bushes and likewise shot at him. The man died from the effects of bullet wounds.

Weaver was from North Carolina and on this ground the suit was brought in the Federal Court.

Rescued Crew in Plot.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 18.—The American steamer Melrose, Captain Frospoad, from Boston to Norfolk, arrived at Sewells Point yesterday with Captain Malanda and three members of the crew of the coasting barge J. V. Thomas, lost off the New England Coast Wednesday. They were supposed to have perished. The rescue was effected just after the Thomas crew had taken to their only lifeboat in the storm, four miles off Cap Cod. The Thomas went to the bottom half an hour later.

Vandals Ruin Store Windows.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18.—Vandals Thursday night damaged plate-glass windows of various Broad street department stores to the extent of $15,000 by cutting the glass with diamonds or with some hardened steel instrument. Very few stores on the south side of Broad street escaped the damaging work of the vandals, and several on the north side of Broad and two stores windows on Main street were also damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars. The Richmond Retail Merchants' Association this morning offered a reward of $250 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of the damage to the windows of Kaufman & Company, Schwarzchils & Bros., the Corley Company and other firms.

"MOVIES" USED IN WASHINGTON CHURCH.

The "movies", heralded as the drama's doom, now have entered the church, but they are expected to increase attendance. There has been installed at the Sunday school of the Church of the Epiphany in Washington, a moving picture machine which will be used to illustrate the lessons. The machine will be used for the first time tomorrow morning at the Sunday school service. The reels this week will tell the congregation the story of "Joseph and His Brethren."

Times change and men change with them is a long-accepted saying, but the fact that the world often returns to manners and customs of earlier days is also apparent. The introduction of moving pictures into churches is but an echo of the dim past when holy scenes were enacted upon the stage.

At the beginning of the Christian era the great bulk of mankind were unlettered, besides Bibles were not as now, common as almanacs. The scriptures were fragmentary, and but few churches had the sacred writings in their entirety. The Life of Christ could not be read at pleasure as in our day, and in order to impress truths upon disciples teachers of the people appeared on stages and impersonated the originals in the tragedy of Calvary. The Passion Play as presented at Oberammergau is the survival of that era.

In bygone years panoramas of the Bible were common and the younger generation obtained vivid conceptions of the historical portions of the Bible by studying pictures. In this day other things absorb attention and Bible study has declined greatly. The new departure of the Washington church may be the means of teaching lessons which will be profitable to all.

Origen, one of the church fathers, was, we are told, the originator of the custom of taking a verse or two or three words from the sacred writings and making them the basis of a sermon. The custom is still followed by the great mass of ministers, expository preachers being as rare in these days as serpents or mermaids.

Origen spiritualized most of the Bible and saw allegories in many statements, but he read other places literally and made himself ridiculous in his age and in his own eyes and the centuries which have followed.

Every now and then we read of misguided men who have followed in his footsteps to the disgust of the age in which they live.

It seems that Origin has an imitator in Greensburg, Pennsylvania. Convinced that shadow gowns and other evidences of immorality had been provided for in advance by the doctrine of St. Matthew, ("If thine eye offended thee pluck it out.") John Linnarios, formerly a prosperous merchant of that city, shut off the general offense by means of the fork.

Several weeks ago he became moody and complained frequently of the amount of drunkenness, crime and immorality his eyes beheld. He began to read the Bible for long hours and his relatives noticed that he frequently referred to the value of the advice given by St. Matthew. He went to Detroit on business and when there plucked out his eye. He returned to Greensburg with a glass eye. He was chastened in spirit and his good eye seemed to be getting on nicely, taking offense at nothing.

PLOT TO MURDER FOUR.

Startling Confession of Robert McGraw at York.

York, Pa., Oct. 18.—In the presence of District Attorney Sherwood, Robert McGraw, 21 years old, yesterday made a confession of a plot to murder Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder, Mrs. Hiram Schroeder, and a boarder, John Kindig. He implicates in this murder plot Hiram Schroeder, 25 years old. To the district attorney McGraw's yarn sounds like a "pipe dream," he says, but since Hiram Schroeder, who is under arrest with McGraw for carrying concealed weapons, corroborates the statement, both young men are being held for further investigation.

McGraw says that Schroeder first suggested the murder plot. He said that last Wednesday night, according to arrangement, he went to the Schroeder home and entered the cellar through the kitchen with the assistance of Hiram Schroeder. When Mrs. Hiram Schroeder entered the cellar with the baby on her arm, McGraw says he covered her with a revolver and said, "Throw up your hands!" At this point the woman's husband, who was also in the cellar, according to McGraw, was to strike her on the head with a piece of soldering lead. They then intended, McGraw says, to strangle the mother and baby and pile their bodies behind the furnace.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schroeder, Hiram Schroder's parents, and John Kindig, were also to be killed in a similar manner, but they were not home at the time.

McGraw said he got "cold feet" when he saw his pal, Schroeder, raise the piece of lead to strike down his wife. He says he motioned for him to let her alone. The two young men then fled and were arrested yesterday in Lancaster.

The object of the proposed wholesale murder of the Schroeder family, McGraw says, was robbery. Mrs. William Schroeder, it is said, had considerable money and jewelry about the house, as did also John Kindig, who boarded with them.

VIRGINIA GIRL WINS.

Miss Starkey Gets 5,928 Pounds of Tomatoes.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Fifteen girls, one from each of fifteen Southern States, are to be given a trip to Washington as a reward for their splendid work in connection with the girls' canning clubs, which are conducted under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture. These fifteen girls are the State winners in the various contests that have been carried on, and are the pick of about 25,000 girls who are enrolled in the canning clubs.

Each girl enrolled in the canning clubs is supposed to have carried out a definite project in gardening on a tenth-acre plot.

Miss Bessie Starkey, the Virginia girl, who had the best record last year of all the States, as far as yield goes, obtained 5,928 pounds of tomatoes in one season from her tenth-acre plot. Many girls have made a profit of over $100 from their one-tenth of an acre in one season.

Despondent from disease and hunger, Mrs. F. J. Johnson, of Chelsea, Mass., dropped her last 25-cent piece into the gas meter at her home yesterday and opening five jets died with her two children. Her husband is dying of tuberculosis at a sanatarium. Neighbors who forced an entrance to the home found the bodies of the children lying on the floor. The mother was sitting in a chair with her head bowed over a volume of Browning's poems.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years. And of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

NO CHANGE IN NAME.

Episcopalians May Dip Wafer in Wine at Communion.

New York, Oct. 18.—Appointments, resignations, and transfers of prelates were considered by the house of bishops, the higher governing body of the Protestant Episcopal Church, at the triennial general convention yesterday. Bishop Edward William Osborne, of the diocese of Springfield, Ill., resigned because of age and infirmity. Bishop Joseph M. Francis, of the diocese of Indianapolis, asked to be transferred to a climate more favorable to his family, and probably will be assigned either to the vacant see in Cuba or the missionary district of Porto Rico. Bishop Cameron Mann was transferred from the missionary district of South Dakota to the missionary district of Florida.

The house of bishops took into full communion with the church, the island of Haiti, which with San Domingo, will be made part of the missionary district of Porto Rico.

The bishops favorably reported the resolution sent up by the deputies for concurrence, to allow the practice of instinction—administering of the wine in the holy communion by dipping the wafer into it. The health authorities of Denver protested against the custom of passing the chalice from lip to lip, fearing disease might be communicated. The bishops ordered that instinction should be adopted, at the judgment of the administering clergyman, when conditions might seem to make the precaution necessary.

The house of deputies deliberated regarding a proposed canon, creating courts of review as intermediate tribunals in proceedings in trials for heresy. The court of review would take its place between the trial court, where ecclesiastical trials are held, and the court of appeals, to which under the present procedure, appeals are taken from the trial court. The intermediary tribunal would be composed only of bishops, and appeals from its decision could be taken to the court of appeals.

Any probability that the name of the Protestant Episcopal Chruch in America might be changed at the general convention was disposed of by the house of deputies. This body adopted a report, submitted by the committee on prayer book, which found that it was without jurisdiction to act upon resolutions proposing changes in the legal title of the church.

COLLAPSED ON STAND.

Says Daughter Had Hysterical Tendencies.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 18.—Miss Virginia Harrison, of Alexandria, Va., was called by the prosecution yesterday to tell about conditions in the home of her daughter, Jennie May Eaton, who is being tried on the charges of murdering her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Gilpatrick Eaton, U. S. N., (retired), by giving him poison.

Mrs. Harrison said that her daughter manifested "hysterical tendencies" towards the Admiral at times. During the past four years the witness has spent much time at her daughter's home in Asstuppi, and she testified that she considered her son-in-law, "always very much of a gentleman."

Her daughter, she said, seemed mutually to believe that the Admiral dabbled in drugs and was insane. Mrs. Harrison could see no signs of these things. She first noticed the Admiral's final illness on March 4 before he had touched the roast pork which Mrs. Eaton claimed was the cause of the attack.

Mrs. Harrison collapsed on the stand while rehearsing the scene of her son-in-law's death.

Mrs. Harrison took the stand after her 16-year-old granddaughter, Dorothy, had finished six hours of testimony. She corroborated much of what Dorothy had said about friction in the household.

A hint at evidence not yet revealed was given by the state at the continuation of the trial for murder of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton today.

This had to do with a typewritten document alleged to have disappeared from the Eaton home after the death of Rear Admiral Eaton. Dorothy Ainsworth was on the stand, District Attorney Barker asked her what she knew of such a paper. The defense objected, whereupon the District Attorney called upon Mrs. Eaton's attorneys to produce the document.

Following the Admiral's death a search was made for a will alleged to have been made by the Admiral after the date borne by the will filed for probate, which left his property to the widow and his stepdaughters.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Annie Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak a word in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

PASSING OF SULZER.

Deposed Governor Delivers His Valedictory.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William Sulzer ceased to be governor of the State of New York at noon yesterday. He was removed from office by the high court of impeachment by a vote of 43 to 12, two members not voting.

Martin H. Glynn, lieutenant governor, was sworn in as his successor, the first in the history of the State to step into its high office in this manner. The verdict of the court was that Sulzer was guilty of falsification, perjury, and an attempt to suppress evidence against him. Of all other charges he was acquitted, the court today unanimously voting him not guilty of the four remaining articles of the impeachment.

In a statement made by Sulzer he says:

"By virtue of a power beyond the present control of our electorate, I now hand back to the people the commission they gave me, and I hand it back to them untarnished and unsullied.

"My trial, from beginning to end—so far as the Tammanyized part of the court was concerned—was a farce—a political lynching—the consummation of a deep-laid political conspiracy to oust me from office. I am glad it is all over. I am tired of being calumniated; tired of being hunted and hounded; tired of trying to do my duty, and being traduced.

"A horse thief, in frontier days, would have received a squarer deal.

"They called it the high court of impeachment, but history will call it 'Murphy's high court of infamy.' The trial was a human shambles; a libel on law; a flagrant abuse of constitutional rights; a disgrace to our civilization, and the verdict overturned the safeguards of liberty and the precedents of three centuries.

"As the governor, I have been honest and faithful to my trust. I would rather lose the governorship than lose my soul; and no governor can serve God and mammon; the State and the special interests; the people and the boss; the visible and the invisible government."

MRS. FITZHUGH GUILTY.

She May be Released Following Admission of Grand Larceny.

New York, October 18.—Mrs. Catherine Randolph Fitzhugh, connected with a prominent Virginia family, and who has been imprisoned in the Tombs since March, pleaded guilty yesterday of grand larceny before Justice Gavegan. She was sent back to the Tombs until Monday, when it is likely that sentence will be suspended because of her ill health and the time she has already spent in prison. In the event of her release it is probable that she will be placed in a sanatorium.

In St. Bartholomew's Church, last March, Mrs. Fitzhugh stole a mesh bag from Miss Dorothy Fisk, daughter of Pliny Fisk, a well known broker. The bag was found in Mrs. Fitzhugh's possession later, in the Hotel Flanders. Miss Irene Munsey, an actress, accused Mrs. Fitzhugh of stealing a bracelet and bag from her in the Little Church Around the Corner on November 25, 1912.

In June Mrs. Fitzhugh was brought before Judge Swann and pleaded not guilty. Her lawyer, Abraham Levy, tried to get her to change her plea, and upon her refusal withdrew from the case. The court appointed Lewis Speigel to continue the case and he got his client to plead guilty, but she withdrew the plea and the case went to trial. The jury disagreed and a new trial was granted.
